

Excel Assignment #6

“Charting the Weather”

You will need to go to www.weather.com to get started on this assignment. You will need to type in a city and state of your choice at the top and go to the “Monthly” option on the menu bar. You want to be able to find the highs and lows for the last full month (i.e. if this is September, do the month of August). You will need to have all the dates of the month.

You should have two lines on your graph. One will be for the highs and one for the lows. Make sure the lines look a little different from each other. Also, make sure your assignment fits to one page, print, and hand in.

It should look similar to this:
